The New York State Public Employees Federation, representing 53,000 Professional, Scientific, and Technical workers of New York State, supports this legislation.

One of the principal safety hazards faced by employees today is the danger of being assaulted in their workplace. Many public employees, including PEF members, have been the victims of assault while serving the public. Workers often face hazardous situations where they risk serious injury on a daily basis.

This bill is intended to create programs to prevent workplace violence. It calls for an analysis of risk factors and planning by employers to reduce the risk of assault to employees and the public. This legislation could make a real difference in avoiding tragic situations. The workers of New York deserve this protection.

For these reasons, the Public Employees Federation urges you to support this legislation.
